FRIDAY, MARCH 21, 1902.

And Gilbert F. Little, he chuckle in he's sleeve.What wonder is it that the clouds burst when there are such goings on in Honolulu.Not satisfied with Hankey's work Thurston will now endeavor to demonstrate what he can do.The general exodus of Dole followers will tend to convince the President, on their arrival, that it was the United States that was annexed to Hawaii.Panic in the ranks of the court managers when they heard the canard about Humphreys and Gear going to Washington added materially to the gayety of the town.Query—When Thurston goes to Washington will he take along with him that pamphlet entitled, "A Handbook on the Annexation of Hawaii," by Lorrin A. Thurston?The Rapid Transit Company is giving a splendid service and no objections can be offered to a proper extension of its lines, but the people would be pleased to have the Governor take as much active interest in the general demands of the citizens of the Territory at large as he does to the requests of a private corporation.The President—Mr. Knox, what is the cause of all that fierce language over in your department?Attorney General Knox—Nothing of serious moment. L. A. Thurston of Hawaii is trying to tell what he thinks of Judge Humphreys, has tied himself up in a knot of unfair innuendo and vague suspicion and is now trying to unwind.Here is another statement made by L. A. Thurston over his own signature previous to the annexation of Hawaii:
"No people who are leading the world in the per capita export of manufactured products can be truthfully characterized as lazy, worthless or unreliable." Since the Territory of Hawaii was established L. A. Thurston, owner of the Advertiser, has accepted columns of editorial space to show that the majority of the citizens of Hawaii not only are worthless, but also lazy and unreliable."Without exception, the members of the Government are the leading business and professional men of the country; who have TEMPORARILY taken on the cares of public office until the Government can be established on a permanent basis, [annexed to the United States] when they will only TOO WILLINGLY hand over its conduct to others." This is what L. A.
Thurston published regarding the officials of the Republic of Hawaii previous to annexation. President Dole sought the Governorship and got it, and now with Thurston at his back is fighting to hold the job. Acts speak louder than words.Lorrin A. Thurston previous to annexation spread this statement broadcast throughout the United States:
"They [the Hawaiians] are a race which will in the future as they have in the past, easily and rapidly assimilate with and adopt American ways and methods." Mr. Thurston now owns a newspaper which expends the greater portion of its editorial energy, when not maliciously attacking the integrity of the courts, in calling the Hawaiians corrupt, unAmerican royalists who do not adopt and don't want to adopt American ways and methods.
And this newspaper owned by Thurston is the recognized and accepted organ of the present Governor of the Territory of Hawaii.So Thurston, whose newspaper elected Wilcox Delegate to Congress and who has been the chief agent in increasing the bitter strife of the Territory is booked with the Governor supposedly for a Washington trip. The Governor evidently trembles at the thought of facing the President and the public men of Washington without having his political guide close at hand. When Carter was called to Washington and it was suggested to him that he take along a galaxy of "friends" of the Thurston type he replied, that if these men went he would not travel with them or have anything to do with them. He intended to stand on his own merits. Carter displayed some independence of character.

LESSON FROM MCKINLEY.

"Probably no other President has been in such full and cordial communion with Congress, if we may except Lincoln alone. McKinley knew the legislative body thoroughly, its composition, its methods, its habits of thought. He had the profoundest respect for its authority, and an inflexible belief in the ultimate rectitude of its purposes. Our history shows how surely an executive courts disaster and ruin by assuming an attitude of hostility or distrust to the legislature; and, on the other hand, McKinley's frank and sincere trust and confidence in Congress were repaid by prompt and loyal support and co-operation.
During his entire term of office this mutual trust and regard—so essential to the public welfare—was never shadowed by a single cloud."

This excerpt from Secretary Hay's address on Wm. McKinley, delivered at the memorial exercises held in the national capitol, states a truth that should come home with special force to the chief executive of Hawaii. The history of this Territory thus far has shown the disaster and ruin attending upon an attitude of hostility or distrust of the Legislature.

Hawaii's first Legislature opened with a known feeling of hostility to the Governor. This hostility the Governor, though credited with a higher degree of sense than his antagonists, did not seek to allay. He returned as good as was sent in the same stiffnecked spirit. Naturally conditions went from bad to worse. Mutual hostility furnished the ground work for the mutual distrust that followed and still exists. Financial disaster and political ruin comes in the wake of such a course, as the Territory of Hawaii as well as the Republican party now knows all too well by experience.

McKinley's frank and sincere trust won Congressional confidence and was repaid in loyal support and hearty cooperation. This spirit has never been in evidence in the policy of Hawaii's Governor, hence the natural result has never been enjoyed.

OUR GOVERNOR AND HARMONY

The Rapid Transit Company makes application to lay its tracks on the Waikiki road, one of the main boulevards of the city.

Governor Dole calls a meeting of citizens to obtain the opinions of property holders and residents as to the advisability of granting this request.

The application and the Governor's request for a meeting of citizens is fully in keeping with a desire to best serve the public interests.

But why is it that Governor Dole calls such a meeting only when a corporation seeks the use of a public thoroughfare? Is the extension of the Rapid Transit line the most important subject the Governor has before him on which an open expression of opinion from citizens of Honolulu is desired?
Why is it that the Governor takes the public into consideration in his official deliberations only when the interests of a private corporation and of property holders along the Waikiki road are under advisement?

Governor Dole is now presiding over a Territorial administration that is to all intents and purposes bankrupt.
The streets of this city taken as a whole are in worse condition than they have been for years. Main roads of country districts in other parts of the Territory are all but impassable. This condition of affairs is due to no fault of the department on which rests the responsibility for repairs and improvements. It is the direct and sole result of a lack of funds in the Territorial treasury. Governor Dole has attempted to solve the problem of financial stringency by inaugurating a pro rata system for the expenditure of funds under the appropriations.

In reaching this determination has the Governor sought an open expression of opinion from the citizens of this district or any other? He has not nor has he given any intimation of a desire to do so.

In the consideration of the serious political conditions which daily confront his administration and the party he is supposed to represent, has the Governor taken council with the recognized leaders of the party or endeavored by direct counsel with leaders of the Territorial majority party to reach an understanding whereby the material progress of the Territory shall not be impeded? Has he moved a hand to raise the general blockade?
He has not. Party leaders seeking conferences have been received with indifference. Suggestions from the majority legislative party have not been asked for much less given the dignity of thoughtful deliberation.

When it comes to the all important problems affecting political progress, which is the right bower as well as the chief motive power of Territorial progress, the Governor confers with whom and in what manner? L. A.
Thurston, who by the way is one of the prime factors of the Rapid Transit Company, a few of his associates, and the conclave is held behind closed doors.

The people are constantly asking for a greater degree of cooperation. There is little doubt that Governor Dole's administration would be free from much of its present distress, if the same or the slightest active effort were made to obtain a harmonious consensus of opinion, that is now being expended to reach a proper conclusion on the request of this private corporation. It is the Governor's province to act. He has not done it. Will he do it?

The Ladies' Benevolent and Social Society of the Central Union church held its first quarterly meeting of the year yesterday. Future work was laid out to some extent and announcement made of gifts to the church soon to be presented through the efforts of the society. Mrs. Atherton was appointed chairman of a committee to superintend the Easter decoration of the church. Mrs. O. P. Emerson, president of the society, was in the chair and she laid special stress on members attending the business meetings as often as possible.

There will be no service in the gospel tent tonight.

OFFICE MUST NOW
SEEK OUT THE MAN

F. W. Beardslee was seen by a Bulletin reporter today and in reply to a query as to his relation to the Home Rule Republicans and their meeting last night, said he was in the hands of his friends. Asked if he had been tendered and had accepted a nomination from the Home Rule Republican Executive Committee, he replied that Messrs. Emmelhuth and Kalauokalani had called on him and offered him the nomination on behalf of the committee on platform and nomination and that he had replied to that committee that he would accept the nomination provided it was tendered him with practical unanimity by the general committee. A copy of his letter appears below:

Honolulu, March 20, 1902.
D. Kalauokalani Esq. and John Emmeluth Esq., of the Nominating Committee of the Home Rule Republican Party.

Gentlemen: I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your kind favor of the 18th inst., advising me that your committee has nominated me as the candidate of your party in the coming special election to be held for the purpose of filling the vacancy in the house of Representatives of this Territory, caused by the death of Representative Gillilan of the Fourth District.

I appreciate the honor done me and the confidence implied therein, and have much pleasure in informing you that, if your general committee at its meeting this evening shall with substantial unanimity approve of your action, I will then accept the nomination upon the platform which you have handed me. I remain, gentlemen, yours very truly,

F. W. BEARDSLEE.
Mr. Beardslee said he had not seen any of the Home Rule Republicans since he wrote the letter and therefore could not say any more at this time, except that in this case the office must seek the man, as the man most certainly was not seeking the office.

LAST NIGHT'S DANCE.

The weekly social and dance of the "1902 Club" last evening at Elks' Hall was one of the most enjoyable yet held. Every week the club increases in popularity among the fun-loving people of the city, and each week receives an increase in the membership. Last evening several dances seldom danced in Honolulu were introduced—the York, La Mode, La Marguerite and others. The club has lately learned the Gavotte, Berlin and Spanish waltzes. During the evening the new ly organized "1902 Club String Band" was very much in evidence and rendered some excellent selections. Between dances, solos by Miss Colburn, Mrs. Ryder and Mr. McChesney were ably rendered. Mr. Morrison sang, playing his own accompaniment on the guitar. Mr. A. B. Wallace rendered a difficult piece on the guitar. The members were out in force last night, and all voted it the best time yet had by the club.
